Collective Baskets: Food Access Solutions for Your School Families

Is your school or organization looking for a way to ensure every family has access to fresh, nutritious foods?

Look no further than Collective Baskets—our initiative supports the families in your community with wholesome, nourishing, culinary-inspired options.

What We Do:

Collective Food Works Inc. is committed to helping your community source fresh, wholesome, nutritious food for families facing access limitations. Our Mission is to create, collaborate, and sustain equitable initiatives surrounding community food systems. We're dedicated to addressing food accessibility barriers and fostering lasting change within your community.

How It Works:

Tailored Solutions: We work directly with your school or organization to determine the best schedule for you, whether it's convenient delivery to your school, directly to each family's doorstep, or easy pick-up at one of our designated locations.

Flexible Options: You can choose the start date and frequency that best suits your community. Whether you Opt for weekly or bi-weekly produce bags or meal distributions, you will empower your families with regular access to nutritious food options.

Your Budget at Work: We understand the importance of maximizing resources. We prioritize using your budget effectively to ensure families receive the nutrition they need without compromise.

Join Us in Making a Difference. Take action today and participate in the movement toward a healthier, more food-secure future for your school community. Together, we can make a tangible difference and empower every family with the nourishment they deserve.

FAQ'S

Here are the questions we frequently get: please feel free to ask our representatives any question you may have about the program for example:

- Can Collective Baskets deliver directly to each family's doorstep?
  - Yes, we have three different delivery methods. We can provide bulk to your school, individual deliveries to families, or Pick up from a designated site.
- What flexibility options are available in terms of start date and frequency?
  - Each case is unique once the onboarding process with your school takes place. The earliest you can receive the first delivery is seven days later.
- How can schools or organizations join Collective Baskets?
  - Your school will contact us to schedule a meeting with our team to review your school's needs.
- What makes Collective Baskets different from other food access solutions?
  - We provide individual produce bags with recipes focused on nutrition and seasonal produce.
- What types of nutritious foods are typically included in Collective Baskets?
  - We base our bags on seasonally available produce and staple items.
- Are there any eligibility requirements for schools or organizations to participate in Collective Baskets?
  - No, we work with you to best meet the needs of your school community.
- Is a minimum or maximum number of families required to participate from a school or organization?
  - We do not have a minimum or maximum. We work within the organization's budget to best accommodate resource acquisition.
- Can families provide feedback or suggestions for improving the Collective Baskets program?
  - Yes! At the end of each school year, we send out a feedback survey so you can let us know how we are doing.
- What is the cost associated with participating in Collective Baskets, and how is it determined?
  - It depends on your budget; we work with you to determine the types of services that would best fit your school.
- Can schools or organizations temporarily suspend or adjust their participation in Collective Baskets if needed?
  - Yes, as long as we are notified at least four days before scheduled delivery, we will work with you on alternate dates of service.
- How does Collective Baskets handle food allergies or dietary restrictions among participating families?
  - We take allergies very seriously. As long as it is communicated to us, we can work with you to make accommodations.
